

A word about flowers and deer.....

Skylawn Memorial Park is adjacent to the San Francisco Game Reserve. The flowers you bring for your loved one should be a tribute to your loved one, not a banquet for the local deer population. Nothing is more enticing to these hooved herbivores than fresh garden greenery and flowers, especially when hunger pangs strike, and other food sources are scarce. To avoid your beautiful bouquet from becoming a meal, you can bring flowers that don't please a deer's palate. Below are a few commonly known flowers that deer are less likely to eat.

Alstroemeria

Calla Lilies

Tulips

Foxglove/Digitalis

Oleander

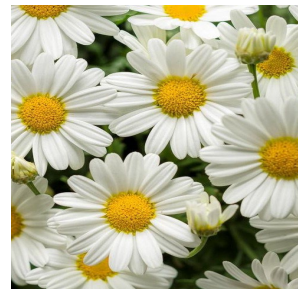

Poppi

Daffodil

Zinnia

Marguerite

Gloriosa Daisy
