I am her 2nd daughter-in-law's sister and have known her ever since my sister started dating her 2nd son. Over the years whenever we had the chance to meet up with each other, we always struck warm and fun conversations between us. For the longest time I have realized that we hit it off great! I genuinely liked her although we were at least 30 years apart in age. She was fun, dressed beautifully, or sometime playfully. She had a way of telling you something from her own life experiences, but never let you feel pressured to follow her ways. She was funny at times, when she told us her travel experience in China, all the "exotic" delicious foods she tried while she was there. Her smiles...beaming out of her eye glasses, out of her ears...were infectious! See her photo here and you know what I mean. Sun mama, my tears well up as I am writing this now. Thanks for the encounters with you in my life journey on this earth. I will miss you forever. ?? to your next journey. Niu Hwei
