Ho Sang Ng

AUG 26, 1915 - DEC 22, 2013

The Life of Mr. Ho Sang Ng Mr. Ho Sang Ng was born on August 26th, 1915. He was a native of Swatow, Guang Dong province in China. He died on December 22nd, 2013 in San Carlos, CA, at the age of 98. Mr. Ng grew up in a Christian family under the guidance of his loving mother, who instilled strong Christian beliefs in him. With his mother's Christian upbringing, he quickly matured spiritually as a Christian and dedicated his life to follow Jesus. He loved the Lord and all the people around him. During World War II, Mr. Ng served in the Chinese Air Force to fight the Japanese invasion. After retiring from the Air Force, he married his wife, Sik Chong Kie in 1946. They had two sons and a daughter. In Hong Kong, he built his business in the embroidery, tapestry, and garment industries. His business grew steadily, however, due to changes in the political environment in Hong Kong, the family decided to immigrate to the United States in 1976. Mr. Ng was an honest man who always spoke the truth in God's love. He always felt God's presence and was thankful for the Lord's blessings on his family. He always gave his best in following God's will. His wife provided a good home, so that Mr. Ng could focus on his business. Having been raised in a good family environment, his children are well educated and successful. And the Lord blessed Mr. Ng with many grandchildren who are just as successful and established. With all his accomplishments, Mr. Ng went peacefully to the Lord as "a good and faithful servant!" (Matthew 25:23)
