Daddy Skylee is 5 now. Wish u were here to c her grow up. She is so cute n funny n smart. She talks about u n kisses your pic everytime she sees it. We keep your memories alive. I don't want her to ever forget. She was only 20 months when u left. I feel very proud when I tell her stories about you n our childhood. That her nana was a policeman. I wish you were here to play with her . She would have been your pet after Devon. We love u daddy and it's been so long I haven't seen you. My eyes are empty they want to see you. Sleep daddy . Good nite.

Four months seems forever Daddy. We have missed you so much during this Xmas and New Year. We miss giving you presents and then enjoying seeing you wear it and use it. The calendars we made for you are hung up on our walls so we can see you everyday. Daddy as I started the New year and am back to work after a week plus off and as always sad to leave Skylee again as we spent so much time together while I was at home, I thought of you when I went to sleep last nite becoz my last nite before starting work again I feel anxious and also starting New year without you but I thank God and I thank you for coming into my dream and such a lovely dream where I saw you well and sitting and I was happy and I went up to you and said " Daddy! HOW ARE YOU! with all my heart and all my love and all my soul. This longing question that I keep in my heart and want to ask you face to face and there in my dream you replied to me looking into my eyes that "YOU ARE WELL and GOOD and FINE"!and in the dream I tell you "Daddy let me get my camera so I can record this moment and keep it" and when I go get my camera my eyes open and the time is 520am , time to get up and my cell phone alarm did not buzz..and I said oh what a way to get up....I got my answer from Daddy on the first day of 2013 work, oh what a way to start off and my anxiety vanished. I love you Daddy, thanks for your silent guidance in our lives still, Thank you Jesus for hearing our prayer and our cry of grief in the dark nites.##imported-begin##Sangeeta Prakash##imported-end##

Daddy, where are you? My eyes are searching for you everywhere, longing to see you. Four months now, Dad. How will a lifetime pass...Daddy I miss you everytime I see a black town car on the freeway. I keep thinking oh maybe it's you, maybe I'll see you. Daddy, your face is so loving. When I see your smiling pic, I hear you say "cheer up". Daddy when it rains and I am driving, I hear you say "drive slowly". I remember the time when we first started driving, you left a note for us on Capitol Ave house that it's raining, drive slowly. I have always remembered that whenever I drove in the rain. Thank you Daddy for all your advice and guiding us while you were here. I miss you so much I feel like ripping my heart apart. But I soothe myself knowing and believing that you are indeed in God's care now. Jesus, please I need you to hold me right now...it hurts...I miss my Daddy so..... much.##imported-begin##Sangeeta Prakash##imported-end##

By increasing your weights and lowering your reps to 8-12 (instead of 15-20), you may get leaner, longer muscular tissues and start out to have better-looking arms

Dad, My loving and caring Dad. I love you with all my heart. I will miss you and cherish you all my life. You were always there for me. ALWAYS! You took good care of me and showered me with unconditional love. I wish I could continue to spend more time with you. I will remember you always and hope to meet you in heaven. You made me strong and hardworking. You are leaving behind a family that is there for each other like no other. Nothing can break us apart. You taught us to stay together in good times and bad. NO MATTER WHAT! I have learnt to respect people and treat them kindly from you. I shall hope to be a great parent just like you. I will look for my father in every father. I pray that you are in good hands and will dream of the day we get a chance to meet again. I promise I will keep you alive in my memories. I will miss having conversations with you the most. You were my true, long-time friend. Thanks to you I know to never give up on relationships. I hope, we as a family, have fulfilled all your last wishes. I am proud that you once called me your favorite daughter. I hope seeing my daughters brought you great happiness. They are becoming daddy's girls just like I was. I can imagine what my childhood was as I see them being so attached to their father. It saddens me knowing what a daughter has to go through when they lose their father. I wish I knew of some comforting words to tell to all those girls. Please remember your daughter loves you a lot, Shirley.

My name is Christine and I am an assistant at KAI Pharmaceuticals. When our company started 11 years ago the CEO Daria Mochly-Rosen hired Om to do all of the driving. Om assisted us with all transportation needs for all those years. All I had to do was call and he would drop everything and be there for us. I could always count on him. I was very grateful. He worked very hard...even when he was tired. He was proud of the company he created. I and others here at KAI Pharmaceuticals will miss him. Thank you, Om. You were a friend and part of our family.##imported-begin##Christine Konkol##imported-end##
