Determined to succeed in what she and Monico envisioned for their family, she worked as a maid for 29 years. After her retirement in 1998, Juliana was able to focus on spending quality time with her family, most especially with her grandchildren and great grandchildren by babysitting, telling them stories about her life, teaching them how to cook Filipino foods, and visiting other countries. In December 2009, Juliana was diagnosed with stage 4 lung cancer. In spite of poor prognosis, Juliana had a strong will to live and put up a strong fight. She went through numerous cycles of chemotherapy, which ultimately weakened her immune system. On May 12, 2012 GOD called her HOME and she was reunited with her soulmate who she missed dearly for 11 years. Juliana leaves behind her three treasured daughters, four cherished sons, thirteen precious grandchildren, and six beloved great grandchildren.

You lost me, friend. I am tiaklng about, I imagine I buy what youre saying. I recognize what youÃ¢â?re saying, and you just appear to have forgotten that you will find various other folks in the world who view this matter for it is actually and might perhaps not accept you. You may well be turning away a whole lot of people who had been lovers within your website.##imported-begin##Mariah##imported-end##

Nana will be very much missed, memories of her will stay in our minds and hearts forever. I'll always remember her ever smiling face. She used to greet 'kumusta anak ko?' in her Ilocos Norte accent followed by asking me to eat, my favorite dish that she prepares is the dinengdeng of saluyot and labong. We have the Ramil Family in our thoughts and prayers.##imported-begin##Marilou Molina Lehman##imported-end##

Yes, auntie was such a strong women all the way to the end, she was a fighter. She was always happy, very generous. Talking to her one would not have known she had cancer. She never showed any weaknesses and rarely complained of pain. I remember most how very generous she was, how she was never afraid to express her opinion. She took care of me like I was her daughter, and I think of her like my mother. It's hard to believe she's gone, it has not sink in yet. We missed her so much that it hurts.##imported-begin##Larry and Rufie Mateo##imported-end##
