When I reminisce back to the days at 358 Ferndale Ave in South San Francisco, I remembered walking into Nana and Tata's home to be greeted by Auntie Bala. The time spent visiting in San Francisco was filled with Auntie Bala entertaining the kids as the grown-ups caught up on the latest news. Auntie Bala provided so much insight to who our relatives are and how we were all related. She could rattle off everyone's birthday in the family. I remembered at the family parties as everyone was having a good time, Auntie Bala would be watching her favorite TV program. This was her relaxing moment, it was her alone time and looking back, it's not a bad idea just to get some time for yourself and relax as Auntie Bala did. Those are the memories that can never be replaced and when I want to get away and look back at where I was and where I am now; it is because of the people in our lives, like Auntie Bala who help shape who we are today. Auntie Bala, may you rest in peace. Love, Ken

I will always remember Auntie Bala for her smile and excitement whenever I would come to visit or stay while waiting for my parents to pick me up after they got off of work. She would always go out of her way to find out how things were going for me and if I needed something she would make sure that I got it. I remember her always being full of joy and happiness too. She loved to talk to all the nephews and neices showing concern for their welfare and development. Auntie you will always be missed and loved. Know that you are in our hearts and prayers always.

Auntie Bala had an amazing smile and was always happy to see family. She talked fast with a heavy Chamorro accent. She had an amazing memory for each family member's birthdays. Even our children who she didn't see often she would call by name and asked about them. Auntie Bala was very humble and I never heard her complain. She was a precious Auntie to us all!
