Yong Gu

DEC 25, 1931 - SEP 24, 2021

Yong Gu, at age of 90, passed away at Stanford Hospital on September 24th, 8:25am.

She was born on December 25th, 1931, in Shanghai, China, to parents Huan Zhang Gu and Pei Yu Ye. She grew up in a family with a successful leather manufacturing business. Therefore, she was able to get catholic education in her adolescent time and became a Christian from that age. Afterwards, she attended Zhejiang University medical school. During her college years, new China was born in 1949. Although her parents moved to Hong Kong, she decided to stay to help people with her medical skills learned. Ever since she graduated, she had been working as an internal medicine doctor with HuangPu District Hospital in Shanghai, China throughout her career until she retired. During her career, she saved many lives, helped many people to heal from various diseases and back to their normal life. Very often happily recovered patients came to visit her over the weekends to thank her for her superb treatment. As a doctor's great obligation, she joined the medical group numerous times to visit rural areas near Shanghai to help farmers. Those tours were highly stressful. Usually there were more than ten operations taking place every day, so doctors had to work almost day and night. She moved to the US shortly after her retirement.

She had been helping raise her grandchildren as well as helping friends and enjoying a retirement life.

Yong Gu is survived by children Han Chang & Hui Yu, Ning Zhang, and Xin Zhang, grandchildren Tiffany Chang, Timothy Chang, and Warren Cai.
