Bingzhen Zhang

AUG 28, 1955 - MAR 5, 2025

Bingzhen “Sally” Zhang (1955-2025) passed away after a valiant battle with cancer at Stanford Hospital on Wednesday, March 5, 2025.

Born in Shanghai, China, Sally went through elementary school and high school with an excellent performance, which paved the way for her admission to Fudan University, widely known as the “Yale of China.” After completing her BA in English, she was chosen to join the faculty. It was a long-standing practice among top Chinese institutions of high education to retain their best students. After marrying the love of her life, Aiping Zhang, both a classmate and a colleague in the English Department, she switched her career from teaching to international trade and joined her husband in America in 1986. She later went back to school, earned her MBA from California State University, Chico in 2001, and ran the ID Card Office there until her retirement.

Unselfish, dedicated and tenacious, Sally was always willing to make sacrifices for her family. Over the years, she seamlessly blended her roles as supportive wife, nurturing mother, and IT professional. Kind, caring, and generous, she treated her friends and colleagues with respect and sincerity. She had an uncanny ability to reach people in a deep and positive way through conversation and hosting dinner parties at home. She was loved by many for her generous spirit, pleasant personality, and culinary skill. When she wasn't doting over her grandchildren, Sally enjoyed music, travel, fine dining, reading, gardening, and knitting. She will be remembered by all those whose lives she touched for her laughter, sense of style, and passion for life.

Sally is survived by her husband, Aiping Zhang; son, Jimmy Zhang; daughter-in-law, Vicky Wen; two granddaughters, Claire and Chloe; her brother, Bingsen Zhang; her sister, Bingmei, Zhang. A funeral service is scheduled at Skylawn Memorial Park at 12:00 pm, Saturday, March 15, 2025

Ahnyez Velasquez lit a candle in honor of Bingzhen.

In Loving Memory of a Cherished Friend There are moments in life that leave an indelible mark on the heart—moments when words feel impossibly small in the face of loss. Losing a good friend is a sorrow unlike any other. It is not merely the absence of a friendship, voice or a face—it is the silence where their laughter used to echo, the stillness where her energy used to reside. It is the ache of unfinished conversations and the quiet yearning for one more moment together. Rest well, dear friend. You are gone from this world, but never from our hearts. Jim & Agnes
