Celebrate the life of Sui Yuan Lawn Lee (Susan)

Born in Hong Kong on March 23, 1950, Susan was a devoted mother, loving wife, caring daughter, cherished sister, and a pillar of strength for all who knew her. From her early years of evacuation from war-torn China to Taiwan, to building a thriving business in the US. Susan inspired everyone she met with her vitality and resilience.

She passed away peacefully in 2025, surrounded by her family, at the age of 75.

A Life Philosophy Rooted in Family

Family was the foundation of her life. With unwavering devotion, she stood by her husband, Peter Lee, through every challenge and triumph. She poured her love and guidance into raising two sons, both of whom followed her example to build successful, fulfilling lives of their own.

Her eldest son, Michael, was born in Hong Kong and graduated from Columbia University. He now works in international trade, is married to Tiffany Shih, and has two adorable boys, Dylan and Evan. Michael also dedicates his time to serving as a youth coworker at his church. Her younger son, Allen, born in Taiwan and a graduate of Boston University School of Dentistry, ran his own dental practice for many years before transitioning to insurance consulting; he is a proud father to his daughter, Carrie.

With wisdom and deep affection, Susan nurtured the growth of her children and grandchildren. More than a devoted mother and grandmother, she was a lifelong mentor who led by example, inspiring her children to become loving and caring parents in their own homes.

Education as Her Mission and Passion

Having taught in Taiwan early in life, then later in Hong Kong, Susan regarded education as her lifelong calling. She faithfully upheld the duty of teaching and nurtured countless students. She taught not only knowledge, but also the principles of being a good person. Dedicated to passing on Chinese culture and fostering good character, she was deeply respected by both her students and colleagues for her professionalism and gentle determination.

Her educational philosophy was evident not just in the classroom, but also in her family life. Her two sons, profoundly influenced by her, achieved academic excellence and have demonstrated integrity and responsibility in their own lives.

From Teacher to Business Partner

After immigrating to the United States, she embarked on a new chapter of her life. To support the family's financial needs and her husband's career, she entered the luggage industry, starting from nothing to eventually building a multi-million-dollar business. Those early years were incredibly demanding; she and her husband attended over a hundred trade shows annually—often overlapping and exhausting—but she remained unwavering in her commitment.

She took charge of product planning, exhibition setup, and customer relations—handling every detail personally, no matter how big or small. Her quiet dedication became the backbone of the entire enterprise, and her hard work and perseverance were instrumental in the company's steady growth.

Her Spirit Illuminates Those Who Come After

Susan possessed an undeniable strength and loved people. She is often called “the favorite auntie” by her nephews and nieces. She revered God, loved others, centered her life on her family, and made education a passion of her life.

She taught all who knew her that true success does not come from fame or fortune but through the virtues we cultivate and pass on to the next generation.

Though she has left us, her spirit will live on forever in our hearts. We will miss her, and we are sure she will miss us as well.

May the Lord embrace her soul and grant her eternal peace and rest.
