MARINA VICTORIA WILLIAMSON

December 23rd, 1938 – October 25th, 2025

The calm hush of a late-autumn evening now holds the space that Marina Victoria Williamson once filled with ease and light. In that quiet, we pause and remember the simple moments that made her life shine.

Born in El Salvador on a December morning in 1938, Marina carried the warmth of her first home wherever she went. Each new place felt steadier because she was there.

Friends and family knew her as well dressed, beautiful, and funny. Kindness guided her words, and a calm confidence shaped her steps.

She loved one person above all—her husband, Mickey Dan Williamson—and she filled their days with steady care for their dogs. That small circle held her greatest joy.

Sports drew her in with the thrill of each play. Evenings often found her watching the San Francisco Giants, the Golden State Warriors, Jeopardy, or Wheel of Fortune, sharing easy laughter with whoever was near.

Marina died at Seton Medical Center San Mateo on October 25th, 2025. The news settles slowly, like dusk over a familiar street.

We keep her memory close by living with the same open heart she showed each day. In that way, her story continues—with kindness, with confidence, and with the quiet pleasure of a well-loved game on the screen.
