

Geoffrey Vincent Farr

March 20, 1961 - November 28, 2019

“People will forget what you’ve said, People will forget what you did, but They never forget how you made them feel.”-Maya Angelo This poem from Maya Angelo really resonates with me when thinking of Geoff. Geoff had a big personality, very charismatic, and lived every day to the fullest. He really made such impact on people around him. He made them laugh, he listened and offered a helping hand during trying times and most of all Geoff made people feel loved and special. He enjoyed talking about anything and everything. Whether it’s about politics, business, gadgets or delicious recipes he tried cooking. He definitely loved cooking and hosting, enjoyed riding his motorcycle and loved his Corvette, just as much as being in the snow skiing or in water skiing. He’s always smiling and cracking jokes. Geoff wore his heart on his sleeve and went out of his way to help others, may it be a friend sick in a hospital, a stranded stranger, a neighbor in need, and even an injured cat. This is why it’s not surprising that even during his passing he continued this legacy of selflessness by donating his eyes to the SIGHT LIFE organization.
