

Jessica Elizabeth Duggan

March 9, 1994 - November 29, 2020

With deep sorrow, the family of Jessica Duggan announces the tragic and unexpected passing of Jessica on Sun, Nov 29th at her residence in Southern California. She will be forever missed by her loving parents Bernadette Brierley and Peter Duggan, her brothers and sisters James, Samantha, Andrew and Victoria, her grandfather Jimmy Duggan and her many Aunts, Uncles, cousins and dear friends in the United States, Ireland and various countries.

Jessica was born in Los Gatos, CA on Mar 9th 1994 and graduated from Cupertino High School. She was a certified dog groomer from Animal Behavior College and spent many years working with animals. Most recently Jessica began studying at Orange County College.

May she rest in peace.

While we would love to have a large gathering to celebrate Jessica's life, we will be restricted to a small private service in line with county guidelines for Covid 19.

The family requests no flowers or gifts. However, given Jessica's love for animals, her family would be grateful of any donations made in her honor to the following organizations:

Animal Humane Society <https://www.animalhumanesociety.org>

Animal Assisted Happiness in Sunnyvale, CA <https://www.animalassistedhappiness.org>

BOK Ranch in Woodside, CA <http://www.bokranch.org>

Condolences for Jessica's family can be left in the message and memorial link below.

“ I didn't know Jessica, but my friend and I went to the beach today and found a nice place to sit on a log that was off the beaten path. We saw the memorial plaque embedded into the log and it made this spot feel very special, even to a couple of strangers from Nebraska. We enjoyed the view in honor of Jessica.

“ Hello Duggan family, I was lucky enough to be one of Jessica's instructors this past fall semester. I just found this page and wanted to share some memories of Jessica. Jessica was a radiant spirit in our class, always ready and willing to learn, engage, and connect with myself and her classmates. She brought such joy and positivity to the classroom, even while we were remote. I feel so lucky to have witnessed her brave vulnerability, heard her aspirations, and learned the ways in which she felt like she was growing. Her spirit continues to live on in each person she's touched, including my own. She reminds me to practice compassion with others and to honor each person's journey. Reading through this wall, it shows just how immensely Jessica was loved and also loved others. Thank you for creating this space to honor Jessica.

“ Jessica, I've been trying to figure out what to say..and I still do t know what to say because words can't express how much emotions I am feeling right now. I'm upset, mostly at myself for not reaching out to you after so many years. Apart of me just wants to cry but another part of me wants to smile and think about the memories we shared together. Hearing about your passing wasn't the way I wanted to find out ... I still can't believe you're gone. When I hear about you I ran to my grandma, she se remembers you Jess, she always asked about you and my response always was "we haven't talked, I miss her but I hope she's okay". My grandma adored the heck out of you. As I'm writing this, tears are running down my face. All I have are pictures from middle school and the memories we shared during those times. My heart hurts and I'm always thinking of you. Fly high and watch over your loved ones beautiful.

“ One memory that is especially important is one I wrote about jess on my Instagram that I wanted to share here as well. "One time I slept over at your house and we woke up super early and you asked me if I wanted to go up to the barn with you. We went up and you tried to teach me how to ride a horse and it bucked me off almost instantly. Then you said "oh shoot ok maybe the little horse" but it wasn't even yours so you were like oh hurry. Then the mini horse bucked me off too. We laughed for so long about it too because I couldn't stay on the horse for more than 3 seconds. I tell that story all the time because it hilarious and will forever be on the best memories"

That day is something I'll always remember and I'll always remember your laugh and smile Jess. You will be missed and you will always be so loved. Thank you for visiting me in my dreams the other night, letting me know you are resting easy and okay. We will always have you in our hearts.

“ Another memory I'd like to share about Jessica is how she always had a way of making people feel loved. In high school when we would see each other around campus even if a whole day hasn't even gone by yet, she would always yell my name and we would run up to each other for a hug and Jess would almost always pick me up and spin me around. She's the only girl friend I've had who would do that and it would always bring a huge smile to my face. Even now as I'm thinking about it I can't help but smile.

On the day of Jessica's memorial, I logged onto facebook and saw a notification that said, " you have memories with Jessica Duggan to look back on today". I was so taken back and to see it was a message from Jessica on December 10th saying, "I love you Michele!" Even though she is not physically here with us, she still finds ways to tell us she loves us.

It's clear to see how many hearts Jessica has touched and how much of a positive impact she has made on everyone's lives. I hope the Duggan family knows they have an endless amount of love and support from everyone who has gotten the pleasure of meeting Jess.

“ My first impressions of Jessica as a new student in my math class (2011?) was that she was intelligent, eager to do well, and even a bit serious. As the year progressed I saw her unique personality shine through, and I was able to experience her sense of humor and infectious smile firsthand. I knew I could always get a smile out of her with my stupid jokes, and appreciated the way she seemed to add light and laughter to my classroom. I will always remember her energy and the way she seemed to attract other students to her - just by being herself. My heart goes out to the entire Duggan family, and you are all in my thoughts.

“ Dear Duggan family (and especially Peter and James, within whom I worked closely at CHS),

I am so, so, very sorry for your loss. Jessica was a strong and vivacious young woman... there was never a dull moment around her! I remember her being quick to smile, laugh, and make a joke. Her personality was as fiery as her beautiful red hair.

My heart aches for your loss,

Peter L Duggan - December 11, 2020 at 07:41 PM

“ I have incredibly fond memories of having Jessica as a student for 12th grade modern literature at Cupertino High when I was a very, very new teacher. When I heard of her passing, I immediately pictured her bright, beautiful face lighting up room 105, always smiling. The senior photo she gave me sometime before graduation is still up on the wall in the room, right near her favorite seat that she always picked, and I'll make sure to spend a moment with that photo and say a little prayer or two for Jessica when I get back into my classroom sometime in the future.

She certainly wasn't the sort of student whose personality faded away into my memory with time -- I recall her presence, energy, and the warmth she extended towards others SO distinctly and vividly, as well as her truly awesome sense of humor. It's clear in looking at the other posts here from students who shared classrooms with Jessica, who were on teams with her, who were lucky enough to be related to her, or who met her long after high school in some other capacity, that everyone who knew her got to feel that beautiful, radiating warmth of hers.

Sending love & peace to your family.

Peter L Duggan - December 11, 2020 at 07:41 PM

“ There was something about Jessica. How when you were around her you always felt a sense of calmness. It was like her presence radiated care and love. You could feel it from her heart, but she also radiated it from her smile and contagious laugh. There was a way she would ask how are you and you knew you could confide in her. You knew she genuinely cared about you. Jessica was truly a joy to be around.

Jessica and I met in interesting circumstances—we liked the same guy in middle school. But out of it grew a friendship. I can't imagine my highschool experience without her. I often reflect on my highschool days. And when I do, Jessica is always in the picture. My memories wouldn't be complete without sitting together in our group at lunches, multiple proms, going to the beach, concerts, sitting in her car listening to music, amongst other adventures. I couldn't wait until we would get married and everyone in our group could unite again and reflect on our crazy adventures of the past. And while it pains me this won't happen now, it doesn't change the reality of our shared memories and friendship. I will forever cherish our memories, and regret that we didn't have a chance to make more. After highschool we always talked about hanging out soon but always somehow seemed to miss each other from coast to coast or city to city. I wish we would have.

Jessica touched the lives of many. Her kindness was unique, and in a time where we need more of this kindness, it is a tragedy to have lost such a kind soul. My hope is we can carry on her legacy by choosing to approach life guided by the same essence of her kindness and caring heart that she touched all of us with.

“ Dear Peter & Family. I first met Jess whilst I was in treatment in Arizona, Tucson. We were both in the same place, shared a room together, laughed until our tummys hurt, shared many late night talks. You truly were my hope in such a dark, difficult year for me. You don't know this, but you were the best thing that happened to me back in 2015. We were attached to the hip. I finally found my soul mate. I remember meeting you're beautiful family, I was obsessed with their accents. Always kept asking you to talk as I just loved it so much. A soul gone, way too early & way too young. But never forgotten. You always told me my Daddy is always in my , You'll be forever in mine. You're smile lit up a room, You were the kindest, friend I had. You had the most incredible hair, And you're love for animals was so touching & moving. I hope you're in Peace now. I am thinking of you're beautiful family at this time. Especially you James. “ This is so surreal to even be typing. I remember Jessica as one of my first friends growing up. We were very close at a very young age. We would see each other almost everyday and spend a lot of time at each others houses. Jessica was such a good friend to me and she is a person I will never forget. I moved with my family to Israel after 9th grade and when I came to visit 2 years later, we saw each other and hugged for around 3 minutes. Even without speaking a lot, there was always a lot of love and appreciation between us and she was such a special and kind soul. Just recently she so kindly shared my work as a photographer and we chatted briefly. She said "everything is fab!" which was so comforting to hear and to know that she was happy. Sending all my love from abroad to all her family and loved ones.

Although you moved away it was easy to bump into you when you were home on holidays. One particular year I met you outside the BMC and invited you to my birthday party which was on the next day. The excitement my friends and I felt when you arrived the next day was and is very rememberable.

“ Jessica, you were a huge part of my childhood and we were best friends for so long. We've been through so much together and I'll cherish all the memories we've shared together. I still remember getting picked up by your babysitter Lexi at the time and going to your house almost every day after school for playdates and when you would come over to my grandparents' house and we would play for hours in the closet pretending to go on adventures. I remember you telling me during our sleepover that you turn into a leprechaun at night and I was so jealous that you could do that. We always laughed about our struggles in school together growing up but made the best out of it, even failing the 1st grade together.

You were such a sweet soul to everyone who has crossed paths with you and has such a wide range of friends because you were friends with everyone and always made everyone feel loved and welcomed. You were one of the few people who I felt comfortable being completely myself around because you were so accepting and never judged anyone. You had always been there for me and even though we had drifted within the past few years I know if I had reached out you would have been there for me in a heartbeat. That's just the kind of person you were. Always wanting to help others. You've supported me through so much and I hope you know how much of an impact you've made on my life and you've always supported me through everything. You are loved by so many people and will forever be missed. Thank you for everything and for the memories we have shared together. Rest in love Jessica, I'll love you forever.

“ My sweet Jessica, when we were younger we were practically attached at the hip. If I wasn't at your house, then you were at mine. It feels like just yesterday I was calling your house to ask if we could have a play date. We would always try to convince our parents that we should actually have a sleepover instead, because just the day wasn't enough time. Our families grew up together. We went to elementary school, middle school and high school together and somehow never had one class together. It's probably for the better though, cause I know if we were in the same class we wouldn't have gotten any work done. My childhood would have been nothing without you. You and your family were such an important part of my life. We shared a love for animals together. I remember we would go around to your neighbors house just so we could visit their pets. We absolutely loved swimming together, playing in our front yards and escaping to the park when we didn't want to sit in the stands to watch our brothers play baseball anymore. We wanted to be just like our brothers we even joined our own all girls baseball team called the "Diamond Girls." After all, we had to make sure our brothers didn't get all the spotlight. When I talked to you a couple months back I never imagined it being the last time. You were the best friend, sister and daughter anyone could ask for. You had the sweetest soul, and the world will not be the same without you. When we said we would be best friends forever I meant it. It doesn't end here. I'm so heartbroken. I love you Jess

“ To the family and my dearest Jess. I first met Jess when I was entering high school. She was on the cheer team with me but we were good friends on and off the team. Jess was older than me and always gave me a safe place to go when I needed someone. It's hard to put into words but Jess really touched my heart in so many ways. She was so kind, loving and warm and really had a way of putting a smile on your face. Jess showed me kindness I had never really experienced before and for that I could never thank her enough. We hadn't spoke in sometime but I always hoped to return the kindness and love she gave me. I will miss her so much and I am so sorry for your loss. Jess, you will always be in my heart. “ Jessica was a wonderful person, with a warm and welcoming heart. When we got together, she always looked out for me as if I was the younger cousin. I fondly remember our visits to Cobh and during my time in California, she went above and beyond to see me and make my time special. I have vivid memories of our time together, driving for ice cream at the view point, to listening to music and just laughing and catching up. I remember her laugh so well. It was infectious. I have a candle lighting for her. May she Rest In Peace now where I'm sure Nanny Anne is looking after her. My thoughts are with Peter, Ber, James, Samantha, Andrew and Victoria and her extended family at the moment. My heart breaks for you all. I will cherish my memories of Jess forever. All my Love Ali xx

“ Jessica could you make you laugh until the pit of your tummy was crippled. The excitement when mom and, dad told us the Duggans were coming home was something so special and I'll never forget all the times we spent together in Galway, Cobh and Cali.

Jessica was such a special soul, a talented young woman who made the world a brighter place. Ber and Peter should be so proud of raising such a special lady, because she really really was.

Sending love to my uncle Peter, Ber, James, Samantha, Victoria and Andrew Rest in peace Jess, I'm sure I'm my heart that you are never far away

Dolores Duggan - December 06, 2020 at 09:47 AM

“ Jess always reminded me of Little Miss Sunshine from that character in the little Miss Books. She was always a ray of sunshine every time she entered the room. Her heart had unconditional love in it and it was big enough for the whole world. She was taken too soon from this world and touched so many people with her love and big smile in her short time here with us all. We will miss her and our hearts are broken and all our love goes out to Ber, Peter, James, Samantha, Andrew and Victoria, relatives in Cobh, Galway and her dear family friends Gerry and Denise. We cant be with you at this very sad time but you all are in our thoughts and prayers. Jessica is in the arms of the Lord now and Nanny Anne, Nanny Phil and Granddad Tom, Auntie Jean and cousin Len have their arms wrapped tightly around her now.. May She Rest In Peace.

Peter L Duggan - December 06, 2020 at 11:39 PM

“ Jessica had a beautiful smile ..meeting her would always make you feel special, she was a poet the way she expressed herself with her beautiful words, a beautiful darling who touched so many hearts ..an angel on this Earth and now a beautiful angel in heaven. Rest in loving peace Jess you did your work ..but your leaving has broken alot of hearts, you will never be forgotten

“ Jessica loved all no matter who they were. She had such a Beautiful Soul. I will never forget our Trips to Youghal, our fun on Michael's Boat, speeding over Cuskinny Bridge until we were Sick, messing up Teachers names so hard that we cried with Laughter, dressing like Twins for Easter, our Trip to Disney, our Skiing Trip or our endless Sleepovers. You were the first Family Member I ever came out too and you loved me irregardless. You always had such a Kind Heart that nobody will ever replace. No doubt we will see each other again. I love you so much and will never stop.

“ Jessica knew no bounds where love was concerned, she had the biggest heart and love for everyone. Cobh was her second home and Jess loved every minute she was here making memories with all her cousins and many friends. Memory of Jessica for me is her biggest heart, smiles and hugs. We will love and miss Jess forever

“ Jess loved and had a special relationship with animals, especially Dogs and Horses. However, you wouldn't think that from her early days on Santa Cruz Beach, chewing on sand crabs and her face covered in sand, hiding her beautiful freckles. Love Dad

“ I'll never forget all our fun and crazy times heading away up to Garrod Farms to ride horses. I remember Jess starting out riding Pal the pony and I remember that within a few sessions, she was already jumping over X's with him! Such a fun-loving spirit and an animal-lover through and through. I will never forget you Jess. This is beyond heartbreaking.
